Three-year-old Danny Whitney listens as the Mahoosuc Music Makers perform at last week's brief ceremony on the common, marking the conclusion of the town's 1996 bicentennial celebration and the burial of a time capsule to be opened in 2096. The ceremony, which was held Tuesday, the 201st anniversary of the town's incorporation, also included a groundbreaking for a small cupola to house the bell which hung in the Bethel Fire Station from 1896 until 1965. The plaque to Danny's left tells of the bell's history and will be mounted on the cupola.

Bethel voters pull the plug on internally lighted signs

Ban applies to all new external and window signs

By MICHAEL DANIELS

By an overwhelming margin, voters at Bethel's annual Town Meeting last week opted to ban any new internally lighted signs in the town.

One hundred and one voters turned out for Wednesday evening's meeting. Of those, none spoke against the new prohibition, and fewer than a dozen voted against it.

The ban on internally lighted signs -- including signs in windows -- had been proposed by the town Planning Board and Sign Committee. (The ban does not affect internally lighted signs that are currently installed, or signs which are illuninated by light sources outside the sign itself -- for example, a spotlight.)

Jan Baker, a member of both committees, told the voters the ban had two goals: "to respond to the citizens of Bethel who want to retain their small town atomsphere and to keep Bethel unique -- not just another brightly lit stop on Route 26 between here and somewhere else."

'... when merchants come to town, their tails (won't) wag our dog.'

JAN BAKER
Member, Planning Board and Sign Committee

She also sought to assure voters the ban was not the beginning new dark ages for local business owners.

"This ordinance is not unfriendly to business," she said. "On the contrary -- Bethel will attract merchants -- but this ordinance, and a vote to approve it, will insure that when merchants come to town, their tails don't wag our dog."

The ban on internally lighted signs was one of six warrant articles dealing with ordinance revisions. The five remaining proposals passed even more easily -- either unanimously or with only a single hand raised in opposition.

Chamber proposal voted down

Of the 35 articles that went to the voters last week, the only one to be rejected was a proposal from the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce that the town spend $7,500 on "Welcome to Bethel" road signs.

Supporters argued that the signs were a demonstration of civic pride, and they pointed to a town vote last year which rejected a proposal for kiosk-like signs that both welcomed visitors to town and directed them

Canoe races return Saturday

By ALISON ALOISIO

Organizers hope an Androscoggin River canoe race -- scheduled on Saturday's summer solstice -- will become an annual tradition marking the coming of the summer recreation season.

The Androscoggin Canoe Race will include competition for serious racers as well as those just out for some casual fun. Jeff Parsons of the Riverside Campground is helping to coordinate the race, which starts at 10:30 a.m. at the campground.

Another, earlier race took place about five years ago, and was organized by the Three Rivers Sportsmen's Club of Hanover. Its purpose, according to club member Brian Gross, was to recognize the Androscoggin for its recreational value.

Gross said he likes the idea of another such race. "The river has unlimited potential," he said. "Anyone who hasn't canoed it should."

Parsons said this year's competition will have both a downstream and an upstream component -- with more upstream paddling for the "real racers," as he refers to them.

The serious racers will travel a

Greenwood's help sought getting Gilbert Mfg. loan

Town would assume no liability

By ALISON ALOISIO

Greenwood selectmen were scheduled to vote last night (Tuesday) whether to put the wheels in motion to help Gilbert Mfg. Co. obtain a $100,000 loan.

The loan would come from the Maine Department of Economic and Community Development, but it must be channeled through a municipality.

It was up to the selectmen to decide whether to put before voters the question of having Greenwood serve as the conduit for the loan. Doing so would carry no liability for the town, according to company owner Duane Gilbert.

The loan would go with a note of commitment for $800,000 from Oxford Bank and Trust. The money would allow for the purchase of equipment, provide working capital and enable the wood products company to refinance.

Gilbert said he has been told by his current bank -- located in Boston -- that he does not borrow enough money to make it worthwhile to the institution.

43-year-old crash site in the news again last week

By ALISON ALOISIO

Northeast Airlines Flight 792 made headlines again last week -- 43 years after it crashed on Mt. Success in nearby New Hampshire.

A Maine Forest Service pilot reported seeing a plane fuselage in the Mahoosuc Mountains last Tuesday afternoon. It immediately sparked interest, because of the continued missing status of a Lear jet that disappeared in New Hampshire Christmas Eve. The jet was bound for the Lebanon airport.

But a little research soon indicated the wreckage was likely from a 1950s vintage DC-3 -- specifically, a Northeast Airlines passenger plane.

Northeast Flight 792 originated in Boston on Nov. 30, 1954. It was bound for Berlin, N.H., with stops in Concord and Laconia.

The plane was approaching the Milan, N.H., airport in poor weather, with seven people on board. It crashed around noon about 100 feet below the summit of 3,590-foot Mt. Success.

"It was the highest point of land between the aircraft and the airport, 13 miles away," said Ron Wanner of the New Hampshire Aeronautics Division. "It was almost straight east of Berlin." The airplane came to rest on the south slope of the

Brown ousts Whitney from Board of Selectmen

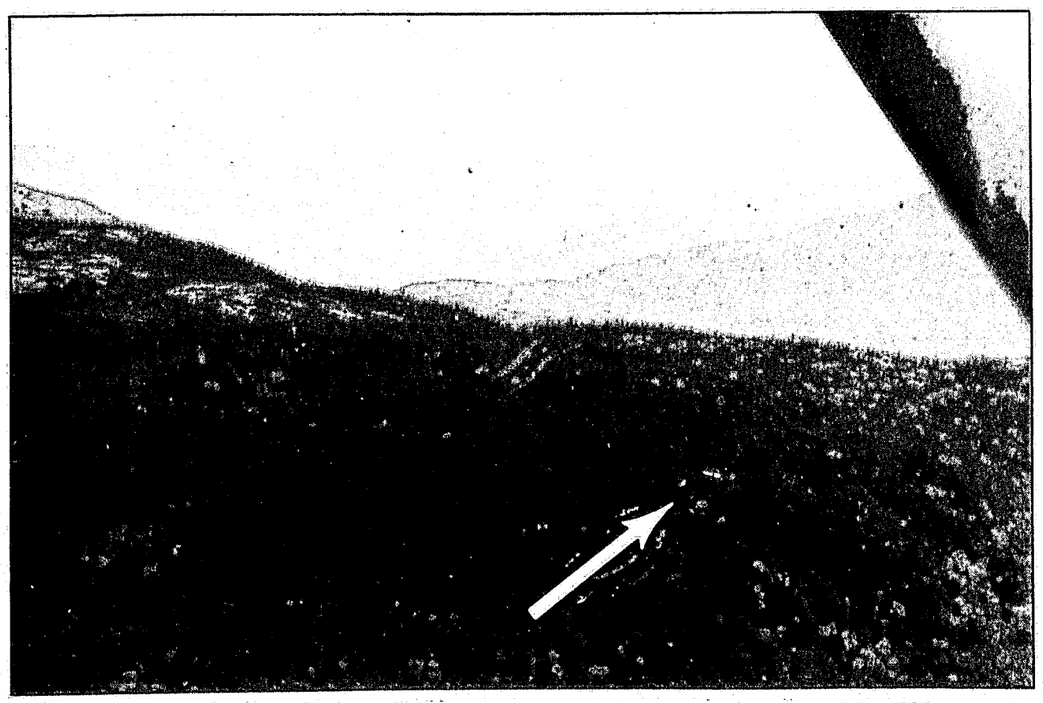
Reggie Brown easily won a seat on the Board of Selectmen last week in annual municipal elections. Brown received 180 votes to incumbent Rick Whitney's 78 and challenger Wally Hannigan's 13.

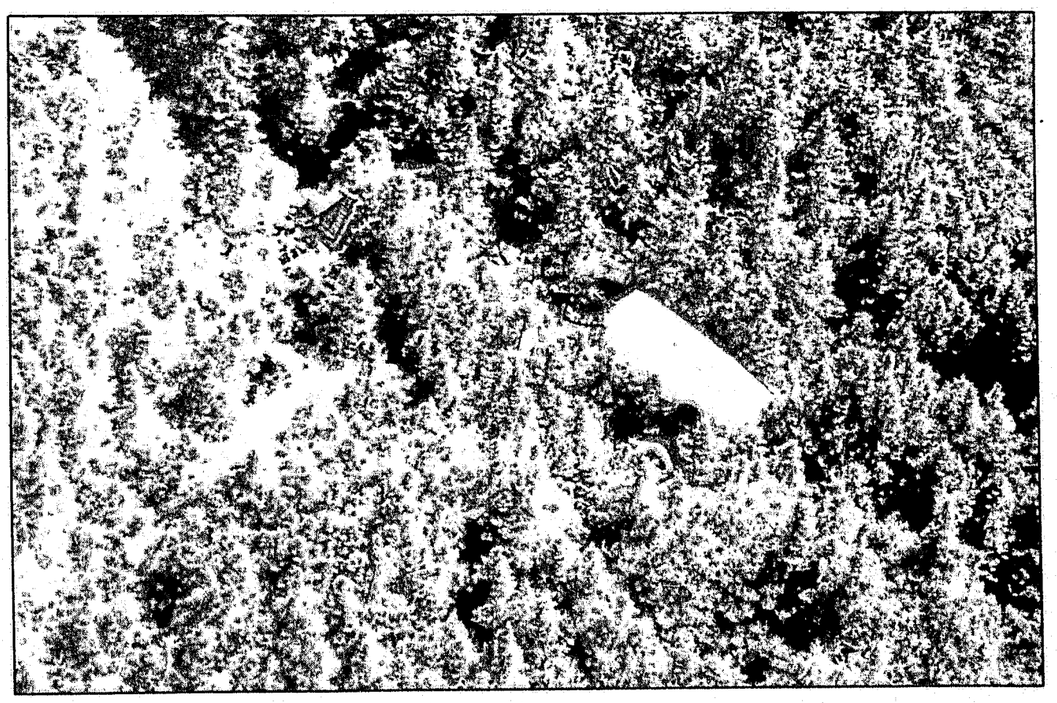
Whitney had served one three-year term. Brown previously served on the Planning Board for 10 years.

In the same election, Linda Howe defeated Rick Mowery, 179-82, for a one-year seat on the SAD44 School Board.

Fran Head and Debra Day Oliver, who both ran unopposed, will each serve three-year terms.

Arlan Jodrey was elected by write-in vote to a three-year seat on the Board of Assessors, succeeding Roger Conant.





CRASH SITE--The wreckage of Northeast Airlines Flight 792 (right), which crashed in 1954, are still visible approximately half a mile south-southwest of the summit of Mt. Success, and about a mile west of the Maine-New Hampshire border. In photo immediately above, wreckage is indicated by the white arrow, while to the left the Appalachian Trail (barely visible) meanders toward the mountain top. The AT passes within a few hundred feet of the wreckage. David Salisbury, trails supervisor for the Appalachian Mountain Club, cautions would-be visitors that the mountain top is covered with thick brush, and the fragile alpine-bog environment is extremely vulnerable to foot traffic. (Photos by Michael Daniels)

DISAPPOINTED BY ALUMNI PITCH

To the Editor:

Please find enclosed a copy of a letter I sent to the Telstar Alumni Association on Sunday, June 8, 1997. This letter was written in response to a "presentation" the association made in the middle of the commencement ceremonies for the Class of 1997 at Telstar Regional High School, and a "letter" they distributed at said event. As you will note in reading my response, I feel sincerely disappointed in this representation of Telstar Regional High School, and believe that the quality of any representation should be of a much higher standard or not at all.

I am further disturbed to learn that there is a repeated telecast of the commencement ceremonies being aired, inclusive of this disturbing, inappropriate, and embarrassing marketing ploy made by the Alumni Association, which was not only ill conceived, but ill prepared.

Jessica M. Fogg
Class of 1991

Editor's note: Fogg's letter to the Alumni Association follows:

I am writing to express my sincere disappointment and disgust in the "Alumni Association."

My first knowledge of the association came at the 1997 Graduation ceremonies at Telstar Regional High School, on June 6. The association decided to make itself known through use of a ceremonial gathering, in a most inappropriate, and rude manner. A graduation is no place to advertise any public activity, even if it is school oriented. Many of the alumni and faculty that I encountered following the ceremony had also been unaware of any such association, and were equally angered, disappointed, and put off by the interruption of the ceremony. Just the presence of the "letters" would have been fine and far less intrusive or inappropriate.

Then of course, there was the letter. I gather the association is designing to represent the school and its students/graduates. I must say, the typos, misspellings and poor grammar are a wonderful representation. Truly a wonderful example of the education level of its graduates. Never mind the misstatements. Anyone who "received a diploma ... is NOW a member of the Telstar Alumni." Yes, that is the definition of alumni, thank you for the honor. Oh, you meant the "Association." Thank you for the notice, and the sign-up, I really appreciated learning about the cause I was joining beforehand. I would love to know who my contact person is, seeing as I have one for my class, and by the way, the address on my letterhead, I am quite sure is not in your database of all graduates. Who has volunteered to track all these students? Who is maintaining the list as we move about? Is there a governing party? Who decides what you do and do not support? There were many "association" announcements that were left out of the letter that would have been both informative and supportive of your cause. It also would have been looked upon far more favorably as a professional organization had someone at least checked the spelling. Of the five contact people listed, I would have thought at least one would have been responsible enough not to distribute this letter in such a state.

With all these things having been stated, I feel there is room for improvement. I am of the assumption that plans have been made to send a letter out to the collective membership at the time of a completed mailing list, as it would be very myopic to assume a large base of contacts were acquired at the graduation ceremony. I look forward to such letter, with hopes that it will have a clear Alumni Association mission statement, goals, and plan as well as notice of the individual class contacts. I do believe that the general goal stated in the letter could be a worthy cause, with better organization, and greater unity of membership. You have my best wishes for such.

MOLLYOCKETT DAY UPDATE

To the Editor:

Mollyockett Day is just around the corner and many changes are in store for this year's event. The changes include more scheduled events for the whole family, such as story telling at the Upson Playhouse, a demonstration by the Paradox Color Guard, clogging and line dancing in front of the fire station and a fiddler's contest with nearly $1,000 in prize money. There will be entertainment at the Gazebo featuring familiar acts, including the Sweet Adelines, Ross Swain and Melinda Liberty, from noon until 10 p.m.

The Lions Club and the Chamber of Commerce have been working together through the Mollyockett Day Steering Committee to raise funds for entertainment. Already, nearly $3,300 has been raised through the generous support of the Lions Club, Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce, Northeast Bank, Mahoosuc Arts Council, Unisource, Bethel Inn & Country Club, The Good Food Store, American Skiing Company, and Sunday River Brewing Company. These funds will be used to defray the costs of hosting 20 events on the common that day. We are still about $500 short of our goal. Anyone who would like to make a donation to the event, can mail it to Mollyockett Day Steering Committee, P.O. Box 81, West Bethel, ME 04286.

In addition, we are still in need of floats for the parade. This year's theme is "Planes, Trains and Automobiles." Anyone who wishes to participate is asked to contact John Grant at hid e-mail address (jgrant@bdc.bethel.me.us). We are hoping to have floats from all local businesses.

I want to express our thanks to everyone who has helped so far to plan and organize Mollyockett Day. Special thanks to Vicki Rackliffe, who has been tireless in her efforts to bring new acts. We hope to see everyone at Mollyockett Day on July 19.

Delma McMillin and Bill White

Augusta Roll Call Report

By STEVEN STYCOS

Each month while the Maine legislature is in session, the Augusta Roll Call Report will detail the key votes of our area's legislators during the previous month.

The Roll Call Report is intended to help voters decide whether how well their elected representatives are representing the people who elected them. The Citizen urges its readers to clip and save these reports and refer to them later this year when candidates for state representative and state senator are seeking votes.

The Roll Call Report is researched and written by investigative reporter Steven Stycos using official House of Representatives and Senate documents.

In the flurry of roll call votes in May, Bethel area state representatives agreed on much controversial legislation.

Representatives Alvin Barth (R-Bethel), Tom Winsor (R-Norway) and Robert Cameron (R-Rumford) all supported putting a referendum to widen the southern end of the Maine Turnpike on the ballot. And they voted against an unsuccessful proposal to prohibit the sale of handguns that do not have child-proof trigger locks.

The three men also supported a controversial proposal to amend the Maine constitution to include the sentence, "Every citizen has a right to private property and this right may never be questioned."

The bill's sponsor, Rep. Royce Perkins (R-Penobscot), rejects opponents' criticisms that it would destroy zoning and the government's right to seize land by eminent domain for roads and parks.

The change would merely cause people to pause in the future, Perkins says, when considering additional property regulations. The bill was defeated 56-84.

The Senate did not have roll call votes on the gun-locks, private property or turnpike bills, but did on two other far-reaching bills. Oxford County Republicans Norman Ferguson and Richard Bennett joined with the three representatives in opposing large sales and income tax hikes to finance a state-run, single-payer health insurance program for all Maine residents. The five Republicans also united to oppose legislation backed by the Natural Resources Council of Maine to declare 4.5 million acres of northern Maine off limits to development. Both bills were defeated by wide margins.

Two other major bills divided area representatives. Barth was one of only 22 representatives to oppose legislation requiring agricultural businesses to comply with federal minimum housing standards for migrant labor if they employ and provide shelter for more than five workers. Cameron and Winsor supported the bill, largely intended to end poor housing conditions at DeCoster Egg Farm in Turner.

Barth was absent for the vote on Standish Rep. Adam Mack's bill to require children under 18 to receive parental consent before receiving prescriptions for contraceptives. Winsor supported the legislation and Cameron opposed it.

Below is a summary of major roll call votes taken during the Legislature's final month. Included in the chart is each legislator's attendance based upon 276 roll call votes in the Senate and 380 in the House. Ferguson and Bennett were two of only five senators to have perfect attendance.

SENATE

Gay Rights: 5/7/97 vote on LD 116, sponsored by Sen. Joel Abromson (R-Cumberland), to prohibit discrimination in housing, employment and credit on the basis of sexual orientation. Supporters say gay and lesbian people should be protected against discrimination, but opponents say Maine should not endorse a deviant lifestyle. The bill passed 28-5 and became law.

Unions for Agricultural Workers: 5/21/97 vote on LD 1654, sponsored by Rep. Roland Samson (D-Jay), to legally protect farm workers who want to form unions and negotiate collectively with their bosses. Supporters, pointing to conditions at DeCoster Egg Farm, say agricultural workers deserve the same legal protections to unionize that factory and service workers have. Opponents say farm owners cannot afford to have unions and that the bill unfairly seeks to punish DeCoster. The legislation passed 17-16.

Eliminate all Dioxin: 5/23/97 vote on LD 1577, sponsored by Rep. Thomas Buff (D-Freeport) to ban all use of chlorine in Maine's paper mills and prohibit the discharge of cancer-causing dioxins into Maine rivers. Supporters say the mills should be required to use best technology to eliminate all dioxins, while opponents say new federal regulations to reduce dioxins will adequately protect the environment and cost the paper industry less. The bill was defeated 7-28.

Tighten LURC Subdivision Law: 5/19/97 vote on LD 1175, sponsored by Sen. Marjorie Kilkelly (D-Lincoln), to increase the size of subdivisions requiring review by the Land Use Regulation Commission from 50 acres to 1,000 acres. Supporters say the change will stop sprawling development on 40-acre lots like the large subdivision in Upper Enchanted Township. Opponents say that Maine should not further regulate private property and that fears of over development are exaggerated. The bill passed 18-15, but was killed in the House.

3/5 Vote to Raise Taxes: 5/8/97 vote on LD 480 sponsored by Rep. Paul Waterhouse (R-Bridgton), to propose a constitutional amendment to voters to require a 3/5 vote of each house of the legislature to pass a tax increase, instead of the current simple majority. Supporters say the change will prevent all but essential tax increases, but opponents say a minority should not be able to block a tax increase. The bill was defeated 13-19.

Ban Smoking at Job Sites and Restaurants: 5/14/97 vote on LD 413, sponsored by Sen. Peter Mills (R-Somerset), to ban smoking in restaurants, workplaces and public accommodations. Supporters say the legislation will help discourage smoking, but opponents say that because smoking is legal, the ban discriminates against smokers. The vote was tied 16-16 and the legislation eventually was killed.

Raise Cigarette Tax for Health Care: 6/30/97 vote on LD 1887 drafted by the Health and Human Services Committee, to raise the cigarette tax 37 cents a pack to fund smoking education programs and health care for the elderly and low-income children. Supporters say the bill will reduce the number of teenage smokers and provide health care to thousands who now have no insurance. Others oppose a tax increase and say it will encourage smokers to buy cigarettes out of state. The bill passed 20-15.

Bath Iron Works Tax Break: 6/1/97 vote on LD 1863, sponsored by Rep. Michael Saxl (D-Portland), to provide a tax break of up to $60 million to Bath Iron Works. The company receives the tax break if it keeps 5,000 people working for the first four years and 3,500 people after that. Supporters say the legislation was needed to guarantee investment and jobs at the shipyard, but opponents say it is corporate welfare for the shipyard's owner, General Dynamics. The bill passed 25-8 and became law.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Gay Rights: 5/8/97 vote on LD 116 (see Senate vote above). The bill passed 84-61.

Unions for Agricultural Workers: 5/20/97 vote on LD 1654 (see Senate vote above). The bill passed 75-68.

Eliminate All Dioxin: 5/22/97 vote on LD 1577 (see Senate vote above). The bill was defeated 30-115.

Tighten LURC Subdivision Law: 5/21/97 vote on LD 1175 (see Senate vote above). The bill was defeated 43-96.

3/5 Vote to Raise Taxes: 5/8/97 vote on LD 480 (see Senate vote above). The bill passed 75-73.

Ban Smoking at Job Sites and Restaurants: 5/15/97 vote on LD 113 (see Senate vote above). The bill was defeated 55-88.

Raise Cigarette Tax for Health Care: 6/30/97 vote on LD 1887 (see Senate vote above). The bill passed 75-71.

Bath Iron Works Tax Break: 6/1/97 vote on LD 1863 (see Senate vote above). The bill passed 101-23.

Death Penalty: 5/20/97 vote on LD 242, sponsored by Sen. John Benoit (R-Franklin) to reinstate the death penalty in Maine. Supporters say capital punishment will stop crime, while opponents say the government should not kill. The bill was defeated 34-111. (There was not a roll call vote on the death penalty in the Senate).

School Voucher Program: 5/20/97 vote on LD 1688, sponsored by Rep. Adam Mack (R-Standish), to direct the state Department of Education to prepare a school voucher program for next year's legislature. The program would give every parent a voucher, equal to the amount local and state governments spend on each student. Supporters say parents could use the voucher to send their children to the public or private school of their choice. Opponents say public money should not be spent on private schools and that the program would leave public schools with the hardest-to-educate children. The bill was defeated 31-114. (There was not a roll call vote on the voucher program in the Senate.)

JUNE 18 1997

Briefly

Break-in at Breau's residence

BETHEL--Rick Breau's Bethel home was broken into sometime Friday night, according to police chief Dale Bellman. Bellmen declined to give details of the incident because it is still under investigation. The police department is following several leads in the case, he said.

Alleged dognappers sought

BETHEL--Arrest warrants were expected to be issued for two New Hampshire women accused of stealing a Siberian Husky from Rick Coulombe's West Bethel dooryard, according to police chief Dale Bellman. Bonnie Thompson, 37, and her daughter Sherri Conrad, 20, failed to appear for a scheduled arraignment on theft charges in Rumford District Court June 10. Coulombe's 18-week-old Husky disappeared from its chain April 9 while no one was home. But neighbor David Luxton claims he saw the women take the dog and drive off with it. The women can be arrested only if they return to Maine, Bellman said. This type of offense, he said, usually does not result in extradition proceedings.

Moose hunting concerns aired

BETHEL--About two dozen people turned out Monday evening for a hearing regarding the expansion of the moose hunting to the Bethel area this fall. Inland Fisheries and Wildlife Department officials came to hear concerns about the hunt, but said any change in the plan at this point is unlikely. Eighty permits will be issued for the western Maine zone. Some in attendance worried foliage-seekers might be in danger because the hunt is scheduled for Oct. 6-11, in the peak of the foliage season. But IFW commissioner Bucky Owens said bull moose are rutting at that time -- making them in prime condition. Other officials said Maine has the safest moose hunt in the nation. Other local residents attending spoke in favor of the hunt, saying hunting has been around longer than the tourist business.

Paradise Road work begins Tuesday

BETHEL--Paradise Road will be closed between the Bob Chadbourne and Punky Davis residences for three weeks beginning Tuesday, June 24, from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Bancroft Construction Corp. will be extending water line service on that section of the road.

Hearing scheduled in Greenwood

GREENWOOD--The Planning Board has scheduled a public hearing July 7 regarding a proposed 2.5-mile section of natural gas pipeline that would cross the northwest corner of town. It would be part of a Portland Natural Gas Transmission System spur carrying gas to Rumford and Jay. A portion of the line would run along Route 35, and would be wholly within the road's right of way. The only private land the line would cross would be a section belonging to P.H. Chadbourne & Co. The hearing begins at 8 p.m. at the Town Office.

... and in Andover

ANDOVER--Selectmen have scheduled a public hearing June 24 on Phase II of the $400,000 Community Development Block Grant and a $19,000 snowmobile groomer for the area snowmobile club. The club is asking for the money as a loan. It is seeking grant money to pay it back. If the club is unsuccessful in getting the grant, the loan will be paid back through its share of annual registration fees, according to selectman Brian Mills. Another item for discussion at the hearing is the possible rebuilding of the broken stone steps at the Town Hall. The rebuilding would also include construction of a ramp and stairs to comply with the federal Americans with Disabilities Act. The public hearing will start at 6 p.m. at the Town Hall. The selectmen will meet at 5 p.m.

AWD, EPA meet tonight

ANDOVER--Andover Water District trustees are scheduled to meet tonight (June 18) with Environmental Protection Agency representatives regarding an EPA consent decree that would result in a fine to the district. EPA is seeking a fine for the district's delay in compliance with the Safe Drinking Water Act. "We're not going to talk EPA out of fines," said trustee Anne Glazier last week. She said trustees have been successful in talking the agency down from the $20,000 fine originally planned. Glazier said AWD would like to put off signing the decree. She also said it might be worthwhile for AWD to simply go to court and take its chances there. There is a possibility, she said, the judge might rule in favor of the district and disallow the fines. Money for court costs would come out of grant money for the water system project, while the fine money itself would be paid for by users. Meanwhile, Glazier is encouraging users to write their congressmen to tell them how a fine would affect them.

SAD44 board accepts technology plan

ANDOVER--The SAD44 School Board last week accepted a technology plan proposed by the committee charged with preparing it. The plan is required by the Maine Department of Education. The purpose of the plan is "to create, and continue to develop, a technological framework to support the educational process for all teachers and learners." It makes recommendations, but has no funding attached to it. Woodstock director T.L. Magee questioned whether the Woodstock and Andover Elementary Schools were benefiting from the contracted services of the Bethel Data Corporation, which is paid $5,000 a year. He did not, he said, want to see the district subsidizing the other 160 individual BDC users. Principal David Murphy said WES and AES do get e-mail service through the Bethel corporation, but get Internet service through the University of Maine. And, said Murphy, those schools would stand to benefit the most from the technology plan. "It's an attempt to get everyone up to the same speed." Recommendations include completing the networking of AES and WES and upgrading the wiring infrastructure at the Telstar complex.

SAD43 rejects vocational budget

RUMFORD--SAD43 voters last week turned down the Region 9 School of Applied Technology (formerly NOVA) budget by a vote of 545-604. Whether the $942,880 budget is implemented will depend on the total votes of all three school administrative districts and four unaffiliated towns that are members of the vocational region. SAD44 and SAD21, as well as Upton and Gilead, have approved the budget. Peru and Hanover have not yet voted.

Employment rates up -- and down

NORWAY--Unemployment rates in the Norway-Paris labor market dropped in April. But the rates in the Rumford area were up, creating an overall increase in recent unemployment for Oxford County. The Norway-Paris rate dropped from 7.1 percent in March to 6.4 percent in April, the lowest April rate since 1989. The Rumford area rate jumped from 5.8 percent in March to 7.6 percent in April, because of traditional seasonal layoffs in the skiing industry, hotels and restaurants. Despite the jump, the April Rumford rate was the lowest recorded since 1990.

Tenters die of asphyxiation

MARTIN'S LOCATION, N.H.--Two men camping in the Dolly Copp Campground died in their tent of asphyxiation, according to a report in the Coos County Democrat. George Perry, 50, of East Providence, R.I., and Keith Begnoche, 22, of Blackstone, Mass., were found dead last Tuesday by state police. A heater attached to a 20-pound propane tank was inside the tent. The heater's controls were on and the tank was empty. Heating manufacturers recommend the equipment not be used in enclosed spaces. The men's nylon tent measured 11 by 16 feet.

A FEW ITEMS FOR THE TRICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION--George Nickerson, chairman of the Bethel Bicentennial Time Capsule Committee, seals the capsule. It will be opened again in the year 2096.

From the Bethel Police log:

Several drivers arrested

On June 11 at 7:17 p.m. a subject was stopped on Vernon Street for speeding. A routine license check revealed her right to operate was under suspension for failure to pay a fine in 1993. The subject, Allison R. Hanson, 24, of Dixfield was arrested and transported to the Oxford County Jail, where she was held pending receipt of bail.

Also on June 11

At 12:30 p.m. a subject was stopped on the Mayville Road for speeding. A check of his license showed his right to operate was under suspension for failure to report an accident in 1996. The subject, Richard D. Gagne, 41, of Berlin, N.H., was arrested and transported to the Oxford County Jail, where he was held pending receipt of bail.

Saturday, June 14

At 1:45 a.m. a subject was stopped on Route 232 for failure to dim headlights for an oncoming vehicle. A subsequent investigation revealed operating under the influence. Charlie E. Niedner, 42, of Dixfield was charged with operating or attempting to operate a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and/or drugs. He was processed, summonsed and released from the scene on his personal recognizance.

At 6:25 a.m. a subject was stopped for speeding on the West Bethel Road. A license check showed an active warrant out of York County for a protection order violation. The subject, Raymond G. Parks, 50, of Gorham, N.H., was arrested and transported to the Oxford County Jail. On arrival he was released to awaiting corrections staff and was held in lieu of bail.

HAVE YOU MET CHESSY?

Huh?

Who's Chessy? You thought we treated humans not animals. Right? . . . Right!!!

Actually, Chessy doesn't work at the Health Center, She belongs to Dr. Kevin Finley.

Dr. Finley works at the Health Center...
Constantly!

But sometimes, when Dr. Finley's making housecalls, he takes his travelling companion with him.
So, who knows, maybe you have met Chessy after all.

IT'S UNANIMOUS--The Bethel Board of Selectmen elected Dutch Dresser chairman following last week's annual Town Meeting. Shown are (from left): town clerk Christen Mason, town manager Phil Tarr, Dresser, and selectmen John Thurston, Reggie Brown and Ruth Grover. Not present was selectman and former chairman Bob Chadbourne. Also present was Greenwood resident Ray Harrington (far right).

to individual businesses. The separate welcome signs were a positive response to that vote, supporters argued.

But opponents questioned both the cost of the signs and the request to have taxpayers pay for something which would primarily benefit the business community.

Wende Gray, a business owner and chamber member, urged voters to reject the proposal.

"It should be undertaken by the private sector, not taxpayers," she argued (after quipping that her opposition to the proposal was probably going to land her in the chair of a Welcome Sign Fundraising Committee.)

Voters agreed, and the article failed 36-47.

Budget approved

All the remaining financial articles on the warrant were approved, including one calling for the town to raise and appropriate $563,344 for capital improvements (the figure also includes $69,994 in debt service).

As is often the case, the money articles generating the most discussion were among the smallest on the warrant.

Voters agreed to authorize the selectmen to spend up to $4,375 to relocate the Bethel Police Station to the former Evans Notch Ranger Station -- but with the condition that the selectmen get more information and input from the public before making any final decision to move the police out of their current space in the Cole Block. (At their regular meeting Monday, the selectmen scheduled a July 7 public hearing on the relocation.)

They also agreed to accept the street lights on Lincoln Street, in the Bethel Station project, and spend $1,500 to light them.

But the money was approved only after a lengthy discussion, during the course of which voters complained of light pollution and the fact that the developer was not expected to pay for the electricty.

The money was approved only after it was explained that the amount in question would pay to light only half the lights.

When the bills (which are currently paid by the developer) start coming to the town, half the lights that are now lighted will be shut off -- probably until the time business growth in Bethel Station warrants turning them back on.

Gilbert

He also said purchasing new equipment would give his company more versatility than it has now.

Asked about Gilbert Manufacturing Corporation's general financial health, Gilbert said that like other wood products companies, recent years have been difficult. "We're holding our own. It's been tough -- business has not been the best. We've had a couple of very bad years (1995 and 1996), but this year is looking better."

He said if the decision regarding the loan does come before voters, he expects to be involved in answering questions. Selectmen were initially approached last week by Brett Doney of the Growth Council of Oxford Hills.

"I think the townspeople would want to hear from me," said Gilbert.

He said while the loan carries no specific timetable, he would like to see it close in July, if possible.

Saving jobs and tax money

Marie Bartlett, chair of the Board of Selectmen, said Monday she personally favors allowing the town to serve as the vehicle for the loan.

Her reasons, she said, are two -- the number of jobs that might be lost if the loan did not go through, as well as the potential loss of tax money.

Gilbert Mfg. employs approximately 55 people. The company's taxes amounted to $37,579 in 1996.

If selectmen decided to put the question of the loan before the voters, Bartlett said, a public hearing and special Town Meeting would then be scheduled.

She said she checked with several other towns which have participated in the loan program and received verification they carried no liability for the loan.

Payments from Gilbert would be made directly to the state.

Bartlett said she believed townspeople should be given the opportunity to decide the issue.

mountain, very close to the Maine/New Hampshire border.

Two people -- copilot George McCormick and and flight superintendent John McNulty, both of Boston -- were killed. There were five survivors, including the pilot, a stewardess and three passengers.

It took about 45 hours to rescue them. According to the Bethel Citizen of Dec. 2, 1954, "Several of the more than 30 planes which scoured the area north of North Conway in both Maine and New Hampshire yesterday were heard by the crash victims, but none came within sight in the heavy overcast."

The wreckage was finally spotted by the crew of another Northeast Airlines plane. The survivors were transported by helicopter to the Milan airport and then to the St. Louis Hospital in Berlin.

Wanner said it's likely many people today -- particularly western Maine pilots and hikers -- are aware of the plane's wreckage.

Another crash of a large aircraft took place June 27, 1960 when a KC97 Air Force tanker plane exploded and crashed on Jonathan Smith Mt. in Newry. All five crewmen were killed.

course of about 10 miles, while the recreational group will paddle about seven or eight.

Within the recreational grouping will be other categories -- for instance, children under 15 and parent-child pairs. There will also be a category for local paddlers. Prizes, such as miniature canoes made of birchbark, will be awarded.

Parsons hopes racing on the Androscoggin will become an annual event. Like the earlier race, this year's competition is partly in recognition of the improved quality of the river. "It's cleaner, and it's being used more," said Parsons.

He would also like to see the event grow eventually into a festival, perhaps encompassing a weekend and involving other kinds of watercraft.

Increased use of the river, said Parsons, should happen with balanced recreational management in mind. "We have to guard (the river) as precious, but we also have to use it," he said.

For this year, he said, he'll be happy if two dozen racers participate. "More would be icing on the cake," he said. "But whatever happens, happens."

FROM THE

Bethel Library

The Bethel Library would like to thank the many people who made the annual plant sale a great success. Betsy Raymond and Nancy Hansen were the co-chairs this year, and once again they came through with style. Thank you for all your planning, organizing and plain hard work. We would also like to thank Melody Bonnema, Norm Davis and Marjorie Osgood for their help, energy and dedication in making this sale run smoothly. Thank you, also, to Carol Neilson, Sis Post and Jean Bass for help during the sale and for helping it run smoothly. Lois Kilroy and Nancy Morris did a beautiful, as well as tasty job in donating coffee and goodies during the sale. Becky Kendall once again came through with the book sales (her warm-up for Mollyockett Day). Thank you to the Renley Corporation of West Paris for the donation of craft sticks for labels. And thank you to Jim Young and the Bethel Fire Station for letting us use their space. The Bethel Library is grateful for the many volunteers and helpers before, during and after this annual event.

The following people donated plants and really made this the best sale ever: Nancy Noppa, John Shorb. the Coopers, the Goldbergs, Lucy Nordahl, Ginger Kelly, Audrey Brooks, Norm Davis, Melody Bonnema, Mary Sweatt, Dana Douglass, Persis Post, Marilyn Sahlberg, Jan Todd, Jan Baker, Susan Day, Jane Vogt, Jean Bass, Lois Kilroy, Barbara Brown, Suzanne Howe, Art and Ellen Marshall, Joe Cardello, Harry Kuzyk, Gwyn Bohr, Geri Howe, Gertrude Hutchins, Peg Wight, Dennis Dreher, Beckie Bailey. Thank you for your generous donations.

Friday, June 20, is the start of the Summer Reading Program for preschoolers through fifth-graders. All school children should have received their participation forms at school. Please sign the sheets, drop them off at the circulation desk at the library and pick up your "reading log sheet." Children may choose to read 20 books or 15 hours. Preschoolers and beginning readers may receive help from older children or parents. The theme of this year's program is "Our Solar System." In late August there will be a field trip to the Southworth Planetarium in Portland for all first-graders through fifth-graders. The younger children will have a party. This program has been enthusiastically received in past years and we are hoping for another great year.

FROM THE

Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

Many thanks to the Riverview Resort, Tom and Melinda Remington, managers, for a very successful Business After Hours last Wednesday. More than 70 people turned out to tour this beautiful facility, to enjoy each other's company and the hot-dog cookout.

Please plan to keep the evening of the 4th of July open to enjoy the chamber's planned activities on the Bethel Common, starting at 6 p.m. From 6 to 7 p.m., we will organize children's events and lawn games right on the common. From 7 to 9 p.m., entertainment on the Gazebo can be enjoyed, and at dusk there will be a fireworks show sponsored by Northeast Bank, Bethel Inn, Sudbury Inn, Western Maine Cellular, The Good Food Store, Stonybrook Campground, Unicorn Flower Shop & Garden Center, Bethel Family Dentistry, Littlefield Beaches Campground, Maine Street Realty, Bob Morin Furniture Center, Bethel Station, Sunday River Inn, Preb's Pharmacy, Bethel Furniture Stock and Chapman Inn. We are still accepting donations on the fireworks and the Bethel Art Fair.

Erika Lamarre graduated from Emerson College, Boston, Mass., on May 10 with a B.A. degree in theater education. She is the granddaughter of Henry and Betty Robertson.

Last week, Tony Butters and son Kyle of Springfield, Va., spent several days with his mother, Muriel Butters.

On Sunday afternoon, June 8, many friends and family members gathered at the West Parish Congregational Church where they enjoyed the piano recital presented by 28 students of Ruth Silver. A reception followed the recital.

My special thanks to Virginia Keniston for gathering and reporting Bethel News while I was away visiting Roger and Susanne Dock and family in Glastonbury, Conn.

Stanley Howe and his mother, Geraldine Howe, attended a memorial for Elizabeth Stanley at the West Milan, N.H., church on the 10th.

Diane Howe drove Rodney Howe to Lewiston on June 20 for surgery on his eye, and Rudi Honkala took him on Wednesday for the checkup.

Albert and Doris Chiaradonna of North Reading, Mass., were callers on Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Howe on Thursday.

Ivy Philbrook was moved from Stephens Memorial Hospital at Norway to the Norway Convalescent Home recently.

Irene Russell visited Bruce and Judy Gagnon and daughter Nicole in Cumberland Center on Sunday.

Vada Glover visited Ruth Cummings and they went to visit Amy Hanscom at the Rumford Community Home. Amy did not feel too well as her back was bothering her. They had lunch at Freddies in Rumford before visiting Amy.

Lottie Knowles visited her sister, Eva Lane, for a few days and while here they visited their brother, John Nowlin, at Sunday River.

Paul and Marie Bartlett visited his mother, Helena Bartlett, recently.

Irene Russell, Margaret Quinlan, Doris Fraser and Wilma Gorman were among those who attended the Bethel Senior Citizens Club dinner in Rumford on Wednesday.

Tom Russell was a recent visitor of his mother, Irene Russell.

Kathleen Hanscom and Nancy Anderson called on Amy Hanscom at the Rumford community Home on Thursday.

Cathy Newell took Ruth Cummings to see Amy Hanscom at the Rumford Community Home on Thursday and they had lunch out.

C.N.A.P. had a meeting on June 14. It was agreed we know nothing about right-of-way laws and need help in this area. Also, there is a possibility of a pair of nesting bald eagles in the Goss Mountain area.

Alder River Grange had a regular meeting on June 13. A supper schedule was set for the coming months. On July 26, there will be a "cold" supper with salads, cold cuts and baked beans; on Aug. 16, a yard sale and chicken barbecue; on Sept. 13, we will host an Italian supper; on Oct. 11, there will be a harvest supper; and Nov. 1 will be the last supper with casseroles and baked beans.

The Grange held election of officers with the following results: master, Jim Lowe; overseer, Jim Haines; lecturer, Connie Tutlis; steward, Earl Hutchinson; assistant steward, Thelma McKenna; lady assistant steward, Kaye Barker; chaplain, Ivy Philbrook; treasurer, Stanley Howe; secretary, Nancy Mercer; gatekeeper, Rodney Howe; Ceres, Gerry Howe; Pomona, Betty Smith; Flora, Nina Mollicone; three-year Executive Committee, Arthur Smith.

Ruth Bethel and Peggy Coolidge went with Mr. and Mrs. Roger Twitchell to the Bethel Senior Citizens Club meeting and dinner at Park Place, Rumford, on June 11.

Polly Smith went with Jim and Donna Bernard of Andover to Greenville on July 11-13.

Carrie and Craig Aube of Portland, Nancy and Gary Aube of Berlin, N.H., and Jason Crockett visited Neil and Linda Olson on June 15 for a cookout.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chappie have a baby boy.

West Bethel

Growing up on the Flat Road in West Bethel had its dangers. When I was quite young and still happy to sit in our sandy driveway with my toys, I remained on guard for wild savages. Where the idea came from that there were "Indians" roaming around Bethel I'm not sure. I may have heard my parents discussing the last Indian Raid and the celebration which happens every 50 years. Of course, I watched a dose of old B & W movies starring John Wayne and Robert Mitchum, and at school we were still allowed to play "Cowboys And Indians." I'm not sure if its politically correct to play this way at school, but it was the way of life on the playground. I still remember waiting inside the little Jungle Gym for my rescuers to arrive. I delighted in being chased by the enemy and hearing their ear-piercing hoots.

I was much older when I learned that my worries were excessive and I was safe to go into the woods to play. My sibs and friends around the neighborhood didn't watch much TV and there were no video games and arcades to throw money into. This was a good thing as we learned to think. We could go anywhere and do anything with our imaginations.

One day last week we traveled into our favorite valley to watch for wildlife and keep track of the unfolding season. I think I'm still searching for those wild places where I will catch a glimpse of something from days gone by.

In Maine we have more than 49,000 acres of the White Mountain National Forest. We recently took the road south on Route 5 and traveled around the forest. We traversed the Evergreen Valley Road and took a dirt road just beyond the golf course there; I think it's called Forest Road #9. This road leads one through the southern part of the forest across to Route 113. Along the road is a new wildlife viewing blind at the "Deer Hill Bog." Here is a 25-acre marsh with a blind that is handicap accessible. We watched beavers actively building their lodge among tall snags which stand in the marsh providing perches and nesting sites for raptors and song birds. We continued along until we reached Route 113 and cruised up through Evans Notch toward home. For anyone interested in viewing wildlife, you can buy a little book which describes the locations of parks and regions around Maine. "On Water, On Wings, In the Woods" is available at the Evans Notch Ranger Station in Bethel for $4.95.

Many thanks for the compliment from Arlington, Ariz.

Andover

There will be a Public Hearing for town residents on Tuesday, the 24th, at 6 p.m. at the Town Hall regarding several subjects. There will be discussion about Phase II of the $400,000 Community Development Block Grant the Water District has applied for and the Block Grant the Snow Valley Sno-Goers have requested for the purchase of a trail groomer. Another topic is the renovation of the Town Hall's stone steps.

The Andover Historical Society will hold an Open House on Saturday, June 28. This will coincide with the statewide Maine Museum Appreciation Day.

All youngsters should sign up at the Public Library for the summer reading program. The four-week program will run June 29 through July 26.

The Navy allowed Brian Spaulding a week's leave to visit family, friends and his mom, Phyllis. He recently returned to Norfolk, Va., where he is stationed on the Enterprise.

Dale McKay has returned from several weeks stay in Sacramento, Calif., where he visited his mother while she underwent surgery.

Get well wishes to Donald French and Glennice Roberts.

Judith Grover Tent 17, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, met Monday, June 9, for a regular meeting. Kathleen McAllister served as chaplain, Debbie Millett as senior vice president, and Sally Sawyer as guide. There were 9 members present. A report was given on the sale in May and on Memorial Day expenses. Two new veterans' graves were found when flags were put on Lakeside Cemetery. The Daughters gave out 127 ice creams on Memorial Day. Delegates appointed for Convention were: Elsie Bonney and Phyllis Jordan, with Harriett Estes and Helvi Cary as alternates. The next meeting will be July 14 with a tasting party. Convention (June 26-27) plans were discussed.

The Woodstock High School Alumni held its banquet on Saturday night, June 7, at the American Legion Hall in Locke Mills. One-hundred eleven people attended the delicious banquet served by the Legion Auxiliary.

Forty-five Senior Citizens traveled to the Chick-A-Dee for dinner on Thursday, June 5.

Glad to hear Lousia Noyes is home from the hospital.

Congratulations to Duffy and Melanie Ellsworth on the birth of their daughter.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Lucy Cox, and to the family of Lettie Brooks.

Schools are closed, please drive carefully and watch for the children. Have a good vacation, kids.

Bryant Pond Hour on Channel IV T.V. is Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. and Thursday at 7 p.m.

The Historical Society will observe Maine Museum Day on June 28. Come to the museum and examine the exhibits in the permanent collections. They are fine indeed.

Robert and Mary Billings watched the museum the first Saturday in June. About five people were in.

The society does its best with the resources it has. Please give it your support.

South Woodstock

Pete Appleby and grandson Josh went fishing this week. Pete caught three trout and Josh caught only one, but Josh's was much bigger than any of Pete's, which made Josh very happy. Pete and Laurene Appleby have stopped by several times this week, and Laurene said she has sold her camper, as they don't seem to be using it much at all.

I attended the Woodstock Alumni Banquet Saturday night in Locke Mills. I hadn't gone for several years. My brother, Phelps Poland's 50-year class was honored. Most of his graduating class was in attendance, including Myron Harlow, Ellsworth Hathaway and Edith Deegan. I do not know the rest of the ones who came. In my class there were four who attended; Louise Newton, Luna Martin, Billy Mason and I. It was good to talk about old school days at Woodstock High.

Larry Billings, curator at Woodstock Historical Society, reports that Claribel Poland gave the society a teacher's handbook from the Perkins Valley School. The society has many notebooks with interesting photos and papers from Woodstock's past for visitors at the museum to look at. Evelyn Bean donated a sprayer used for doing oiling on the railroad recently. Thanks to those who helped clean the museum to get it ready for the summer season.

School got out a little earlier this year, which makes it nice for the students to enjoy the summer.

Jessie and Sarah Hart are both working at Bonanza in Oxford. Doug Wing works there, also.

Sarah Hart got her driver's license recently.

Megan Mack received the Anna Rosenberg yearly award for being the most considerate and sociable student in the fifth grade at Woodstock Elementary School. Megan is the daughter of Rick and Lisa Mack of South Woodstock. Congratulations, Megan!

Donna Kusheba and Vicki Hill had supper with Claribel Poland last Wednesday night.

Rosalie Poland has been having a yard sale recently.

Quote of the Week: "I've learned that we learn of life by untying its knots."

North Newry

by
Gil Seeley

Members of the Newry Mothers Club had their annual banquet at the Town & Country Motor Inn Monday night, June 9. Karlene Bachelder, Olive Anderson, Mary Morin, Sis Post, Nancy Wight, Rita Wilson, Polly Mahoney and Gil Seeley enjoyed a delicious dinner and lively conversation. The club will resume their regular meetings in September with election of officers and a tasting party. Have a good summer. See you this fall.

Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Gil Seeley, Eleanor Davis and Olive Anderson were in Rumford at the Oxford Lanes one day last week doing some bowling for fun. Karlene was the high scorer on both the triples and singles with two singles of 100 and 101. She had two strikes and two spares. Betsy had two strikes and two spares, Gil had one strike. All went to lunch and did some shopping.

Ras and Karlene Bachelder celebrated a quiet 53rd wedding anniversary at their home on the 15th, Sunday. "May you continue to share your special togetherness as time goes by."

Also, Happy Anniversary to Bill and Sylvia Wight on their 54th.

More anniversaries? How about Bethel, 1796, 201 years old; Newry, 1805, 192 years old -- Bethel on the 10th and Newry on the 15th. Happy Birthday!

A number of notes from the Recreation Committee:

Six campership awards have been given. Wade and Erin Osgood, Megan and Ryan Trefethan, Katie Wight and Chelsea Marshall have received $50 campership to attend the camp of their choice.

Polly Mahoney and Kevin Slater of Mahoosuc Guide Service will again offer a Junior Maine Guides canoe trip for 11 to 14 year-olds this summer. Dates for the trip are July 7-9 (M-W) with an organizational meeting on Thursday, June 26, 7 p.m. at the Newry Town Office. Anyone interested in going must be at the organizational meeting. There are 12 slots available with Newry residents given priority. The cost will be $25 for Newry residents. This year participants will be asked to provide their own food and gear. This will be organized on June 26. If you want to participate and have any questions, please call Nancy Babcock at 824-2115.

ATV Safety courses -- Are you or do you know someone 16 or under who rides an ATV? Anyone 16 and under who rides an ATV off their own property must take an ATV Safety course. These are offered free of charge, and we are considering offering one in Newry. Would you or anyone you know be interested? Please call Leslie Bonney at 824-0284 by Monday, June 23, if interested.

1997 Gould Academy Commencement Awards -- Spring Sports Awards

At Gould Academy's commencement exercises May 31, awards were presented to members of the senior class who achieved distinction in scholastic, community, or athletic endeavors.

Valedictorian Amos Hausman-Rogers of Albany will have his name inscribed on the Scholarship Shield, a gift of the Class of 1930 which honors the top academic member of the senior class who has been at Gould for at least two years. Hausman-Rogers, a member of the National Honor Society, also received Academic Book Prizes at commencement for English and Advanced Placement Biology.

Salutatorian and National Honor Society member Joran Elias of Auburn received Academic Book Prizes for History and Math.

The Book Prize for Computer Science was awarded to Jonathan Wood of Randolph, NH. Wood also received the Ralph Gould Music Award for improvement, excellence, and contribution to the school in the area of music.

Megan Keiser of South Paris was awarded the Academic Book Prize for Art, as well as the Rhode Island School of Design President's Award, presented to the most outstanding art student in the senior class. In addition, her work was chosen from the Student Exhibition by the Art Department and faculty to be purchased and added to the school's permanent collection, continuing a tradition begun in 1987 of selecting one piece of student artwork to represent the year's accomplishments.

The Book Prize for Drama was awarded to Michael Rose of Dhahran, Saudi Arabia. Rose has appeared in numerous Gould Academy drama productions, including the recent performance of A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum.

The Pottery Book Prize was given to David Herberich of Akron, Ohio. A National Honor Society member and Head Proctor, Herberich was chosen by his classmates to speak at Friday's baccalaureate ceremony.

Five graduating seniors who achieved an academic average of 90 or higher for their years at Gould will have their names engraved on the Honor Plaque. They are Elias, Hausman-Rogers, Wood, David Asher Ghertner of Sodus, N.Y., and David Riss of Madison, N.H.

Megan Edgar of Guilford and Samuel Harrity of Wayland, Mass., will have their names engraved on the Headmaster's Bowl. This recognition is given to the senior who has exhibited the highest standards of scholarship, character, and service to the school and participation in activities of the school.

The Gayle A. Foster Award, given in memory of Foster, an instructor at Gould Academy and a photographer who gained an international reputation, is presented annually to the graduating senior who has exhibited the most outstanding work in photography. It was awarded to Keper Connell of Rye, N.H.

The Joe Roderick Award and the Francis "Hi" Berry Award recognize a senior boy and girl for outstanding competitive spirit through example and overall competence in athletics. This year's recipients are Eugene Covington of Atlanta, Ga., and Abigail Lefebvre of Chester, N.H.

The Linwood "Lindy" Lowell Award was presented to Dana Drummond of Center Conway, N.H., a National Honor Society member who served as a Head Proctor this year. The award recognizes a member of the senior class whose friendly personality and helpful nature has brightened the lives of fellow students.

The Newry Mothers' Club presents a scholarship to each graduating senior from the town of Newry. This year's scholarships were given to Parker Gray, Jessica Odlin, and B.J. Otten.

Abigail Lefebvre of Chester, N.H. and Joshua Wharton of Exeter, N.H. received the Elwood F. Ireland Award. Ireland created this award upon his retirement as Gould Headmaster in 1959 to recognize a senior boy and girl who exemplify the qualities for membership in the National Honor Society but who are not eligible academically for consideration. Ireland felt strongly about the need for recognition of such contributions to the school community in service, leadership, and character, and the faculty has voted unanimously to continue the award each year in his memory.

Following the awards, diplomas were presented to the fifty-six members of the Class of 1997.

Gould Academy recently held its spring athletic awards banquet, presenting awards to students who competed on this spring's interscholastic sports teams.

Tokiko Inaba of Tochigi, Japan was named the Most Improved Player on the girls' varsity tennis team, and Brianna Trundy of Rumford received the Sportsmanship Award. Jessica Hoffman of Danvers, Mass. was named to the Maine Association of Independent Schools All-Star team.

The Most Improved Player on the boys' varsity tennis team was Christopher Bassett of Denver, Colo., while Samuel Harrity of Wayland, Mass. received the Sportsmanship Award. Gregory Gibbons of Hyde Park, Vt., received the junior varsity Coaches' Award.

Megan Flaherty of Cumberland Foreside was the Most Improved Player on the girls' varsity lacrosse team, and Shelley MacQuinn of Bar Harbor received the Sportsmanship Award. Abigail Lefebvre of Chester, N.H., and Jessie Odlin of Newry were named to the MAISAD All-Star team. Betsey Kuzyk of Bethel was elected as next year's team captain. Lydia Mills of Bethel received the junior varsity Coaches' Award.

The boys' varsity lacrosse Sportsmanship Award was presented to Daniel LeBlanc of Plymouth, N.H. Peter Girard of Biddeford was named the Most Improved Player. Shane Vitalius of Yarmouth received the Banker Award, and Matthew Lemieux of East Sebago received the Baggataway Award. Drew Drummond of Freedom, N.H., was elected to serve as next year's team captain. Andrew Drummond of Center Conway received the junior varsity Coaches' Award.

Justin Hall of Essex, Mass. was named the Most Improved Player Award for varsity baseball, and Ian Paquette of Bethel received the Sportsmanship Award. The George Bowhay Award was presented to B.J. Otten of Newry. Eugene Covington of Atlanta, Ga. and Ian Paquette were named to the MAISAD All-Star team. Chad Stewart of Plaistow, N.H., will serve as team captain next year. The junior varsity Coaches' Award was presented to Justin Gray of Yarmouth.

The softball team's Most Improved Player was Seo Hee Koh of Kyunggido, Korea.

Megan Edgar of Guilford received the Sportsmanship Award.

The Sportsmanship Award for cycling was presented to Dominic Arsenault of Coaticook, Quebec.

Jonathan Wood of Randolph, N.H., was the Most Improved Rider in the equestrian club, and Meredith Mason of Gilead received the Sportsmanship Award.

TIMING IS EVERYTHING

At Mountain Health Services, we make time for you

Let's face it – it's never convenient to visit the doctor.

When you need routine medical attention late in the afternoon, Mountain Health Services is ready to provide the care you need, when you need it, including same-day appointments.

Adults who work weekdays and youngsters in school with athletic commitments can't easily schedule routine appointments. All of our healthcare providers select certain days each month to be available for late afternoon appointments. This ensures your appointment with your primary care provider. For emergencies or same-day appointments we arrange for you to see the first available provider if your primary care provider is not available.

Please, call ahead for:

- Routine adult physicals
- School, camp, or work physicals
- Urgent or routine care for minor illness or injury
- Preventive immunizations
- Gynecology and family planning

JUNE 18 1997

Greenwood City

by Colista Morgan

This morning as I went outside to water my plants I stopped to observe my surroundings. The first thing I noticed were three gulls circling round and round above the water. This was unusual. The silvery surface was marked by occasional accents of ducks flying fast and low. The wing-rowing of these gulls, moving so neatly and quickly, dipping and turning above the water belong to the word Grace.

Two geese separated from the flock dropped down to rest on our little pond, where spread out before them was the smashed reflection of the sun shining back from the waters. All this told me that spring progresses like a long, black sentence with a bright mark at the end making us tingle with beauty.

Flag Day is here soon, and "I Am Whatever You Make Me."

"I am not the flag not at all./I am but its shadow./I am whatever you make me, nothing more./I am your belief in yourself, your dream of what a people may become.../I am the day's work of the weakest man, and the largest dream of the most daring.../I am the clutch of an idea, and the reasoned purpose of resolution./I am no more than you believe I can be. I am whatever you make me, nothing more." (from "Quote Magazine)

I was pleased to meet Peter Tommila of California and his mother and father. Peter bought the Doris Hayes farm on Hayes Hill Road and plans to retire here.

I was truly surprised to have a visit from my niece, Laurene French. She, her husband and a grandson had driven here from Oregon.

We are all entertained by the many wild animals that are here this year. Fay Holt looks out her back kitchen and sees two red foxes lying on a rock in the sun. When the foxes are gone, the woodchuck takes over. We have the moose and the deer, the 'coon, the skunk and the turtles. But the one not desirable is the big, black bear. Several people have seen him. He visited someone's yard on Hayes Hill and he took a tall stand in Holt's front field and came to walk my driveway. I hope he isn't hungry, or stays for a long visit.

Edith Gardner took Fay and me to see the McLaughlin flower park in Norway on Monday. It is beautiful.

Locke Mills

by
Lorraine Mills

I'm back. Bet you thought you'd gotten rid of me for good, huh? Well, as busy as I've been, there were times --. For two weeks and a half I was out of town every day.

Gerry Shimamura and I were in Portland and Lewiston one Tuesday and Wednesday respectively. Then I have been to Topsham and Augusta three times (I said if I had to go again they might have to keep me there) and Readfield, where I wandered around a bit and got to see the school at Kents Hill. Sabattus was my last jaunt.

The problem usually with me is my addiction to getting lost. I say addiction because it seems to be a habit I can't get rid of. I take wrong turns, go on routes that do not seem to go where the map says they are going (map makers can't be wrong, can they?), and invariably I cannot get back out the way I went in. Of course, it would help if some of the signs were clearer -- like when a route points both ways. They don't tell you until you have made your turn and gone several yards or more that you are now going east when you should go west. Some roads branch off in two directions and give you no signs whatsoever. I think whoever is in charge of signs should hire someone like me to go over the routes and tell them where it is unclear. Of course, no one wants to do that. Tax revenues on gasoline would drop considerably no doubt. And come to think of it one would never be able to have an adventure and that would be pretty boring. And I've certainly seen a lot of this lovely state of ours along with its varied architecture, not to mention the roads, but that's a whole other story.

We now have baby ducks on the pond. I haven't seen them but Andy has. Of course, I haven't, as I say, been home enough to see them.

Shades of Northern Exposure. They aren't the only ones have a moose wandering around their Main Street. As I was leaving the post office the other morning along comes a moose trotting up the street followed by several cars. It looked a little harried and slipped a bit on the unfamiliar tar and finally headed off through the Bennett property and up the bank out of sight. It may be more careful where it picks to visit next time.

The Jazz-Poochie is having a birthday this month. Although I wouldn't trust him with an open door to the outside, turning three seems to become him. He is getting much better mannered around the house. Ever since I saw this thing on television about training your dog by throwing things at him when he misbehaves, he's steadily improved. They said it is because a dog cannot throw things that he respects someone who can. It doesn't work with Lucy Maud. She just takes it all in stride. I think her thought processes, if indeed she has any, must go, "so she can throw things -- so what. I can retrieve them -- and who understands the behavior of these strange creatures anyhow. I'll just go wash her up and comfort her and show her I love her. That should make everything all right." And it usually does.

Mike and Sarah Misner and son have bought my old place and are moving in. Please give them a rousing Locke Mills' welcome. They are very nice young people and are looking forward to making new friends.

Andy has been busy putting up window boxes which look very nice. He has a talent with growing things and an eye for color.

There is a nice young family that have moved into the house across the street. They have a little girl and a nice black lab. The mother's name is Faye, and I'm sure I was told the name of the man and child but my memory is not what it used to be. I'll try to find out before I write again. I don't dare say next week because we may be off again on Friday, if Andy finds another bargain Thursday when he reads that infamous little magazine full of ads.

The Greenwood Fire Department auxiliary has given out about 24 free smoke detectors. If there is anyone out there in the Locke Mills-Greenwood area who hasn't gotten one that wants one, call Denise Swan or Wayne Hakala. Remember they are free and installed if you desire.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson

Hi readers. The first church public supper went over OK at the East Stoneham Church on Thursday, June 5, and the first East Stoneham Thrift and Bake Sales on Saturday, June 7, went over well. The summer has started. Thanks, Marilyn Jones, for tending the bake sale table.

One lady I saw yesterday missed the church supper dates in a recent column, so here they are again: East Stoneham (time: 5 to 6:30 p.m.)--June 5-19, July 3-17-31, Aug. 14 (turkey supper) and 28; Sept 11-25; Oct. 9 (Harvest Supper). Hunt's Corner--July 10-24, Aug. 14-28. North Waterford dates are June 24, July 8-22, Aug. 5-19; Sept. 2. These are Tuesdays on the opposite week as ours. Cut out these dates and tack them up on your kitchen wall and come on over.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bailey of Oxford have been spending a few days at the Nelson camp at Wilsons Mills. They were married on June 7. Congratulations and best wishes go out to them.

Our sympathy and prayers are with the relatives and friends of Grace Nelson, who died on June 5 at the Bridgton Health Center. She is survived by three stepchildren: Albert E. Nelson Sr., Carolyn Heino and Geneva Tripp, and several nieces and nephews.

Also, our thoughts and prayers go out to the family and friends of Phyllis H. Severance of Norway, who died June 9 at the Norway Convalescent Center. She is survived by a son, William E. Severance Jr. of East Stoneham, and a sister, Adeline H. Towle of Saco. Donations in her memory may be made to the East Stoneham Rescue Unit.

Last week I told you about the family of robins that were hatched right outside the bedroom window, and now the nest is empty. How old must they be when they can fly? I hope nothing got them.

Tuesday night, I saw a nice, big moose cross the road in front of the house, go across the wood yard, and then across the Rescue Unit yard and into the woods toward the brook.

July 1 is the first Beano at the Rescue Unit, from 7 to 9 p.m., and July 5 is a spaghetti supper there from 5 to 7 p.m.

Right now there is a thunderstorm in the air, so I'll hurry and finish this bit of news before I lose the electricity.

Songo Pond

by Alice Kimball

The annual business meeting of the Songo Cemetery Association will be held Sunday evening, June 22, at 7 p.m. at the Kimball-Salway home.

Miss Ivy Philbrook was moved this week from Stephens Memorial Hospital, where she had undergone several surgeries and treatments, to the Norway Convalescent Center.

Mrs. Beatrice Grover, formerly of Bethel, observed her natal milestone on Sunday, June 15, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carla Durgin, in Bangor, where she now makes her home. Hope you had a lovely day, Bea!

Last Saturday, with Norma and David, I went to Portland to attend the dance recital of the students of the Maine State School of Ballet and Performing Arts held at the Merrill Auditorium of the recently renovated Portland City Hall. Kaitlyn Gatchell participated in the tap dance "South of the Border" revue. Others attending were Kassie and Bernie Gatchell of Portland, Bernard and Mary Gatchell of Bryant Pond, Mrs. Beulah Staples of Norway,, Mrs. Dena Gatchell of Naples, and Brandon and Tara Salway of Old Orchard Beach. Later, we all gathered at Kassi and Bernie's home for a cookout and celebration of four family birthdays: Bernie's, Tara's, David's and Norma's. Although the weather had cooled off so we had to eat inside, it was an enjoyable day that also included an extra side trip to Old Orchard Beach.

Several thundershowers rolled over this area during the day Thursday. We lost power for a few minutes during the last one.

Bethel Selectmen's Meetings

On weeks in which the Bethel selectmen meet (usually the weeks of the first and third Mondays in the month) the meetings will be televised on Channel IV. The broadcasts will normally be at 7 p.m. on Friday, but schedule modifications will occasionally be necessary, so please check the on-air calendar for up-to-date information.

Broadcast of the selectmen's meeting is a cooperative effort of Channel IV and The Bethel Citizen.

Upton

by Amy Geiling

Congratulations to all graduates and those students moving up to the next grade.

This past week was sunny mostly, with some T-storms. Upton saw a five-minute hail shower.

Matthew, my son, says "Thank you, Tiffany, for the playtime."

The pollen is thick these days. I read where you should bathe or shower your kids before bed to rinse pollen, or bug spray for that matter, off their skin and change their bed sheets and pillow cases frequently. Avoid outdoor exercising in the hours of 5 to 10 a.m. when pollen is thick, and don't stick your nose into a lupine and rub your face against the baby one because it's so cute, as Matthew did.

How about when a 3 1/2 year old chooses a field of tall grass to hide in? Good thing they make good ole fashioned allergy drugs.

Well, gotta go wash some sheets.

P.S. The musical I'm in, "Taller Than Truth," about Paul Bunyan and other tall tale characters, is Friday and Saturday, June 20-21 at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, June 22, at 2 p.m. at Jay High School Cafeteria, and Saturday, June 28, at 7:30 p.m. at Nordica Auditorium at U.M. Farmington.

High Street

West Paris
by Russell Yates

Howdy friends. This Tuesday morning is cloudy here on High Street, and I wish it meant that we might get some rain, but that sounds doubtful.

David Small of Kennebunkport visited the Lovejoys on Saturday and attended the graduation of their daughter, Hope, from Oxford Hills High School. Hope received the Woody Allen Prestigious Scholarship and a plaque for two years of volunteer work with the Chamber of Commerce.

Charlotte Cole and Helen Chase of Locke Mills were recent visitors at the Lovejoy home.

Oxford Pomona Grange will meet at Pleasant Valley Grange Hall in West Bethel on June 24 for Community Service Night. Supper will be served at 6:30 p.m.

There will be a dance on June 28 at the Locke Mills Town Hall, with the Richard Felt Orchestra furnishing the music.

Peggy and I are doing well at getting our gardens planted, but now we are in need of a real good soaking rain, like lots of other people out there.

NEWS TIPS

To reach a reporter with a news tip or story request, or to comment on news coverage call Michael Daniels or Alison Aloisio at 824-2444.

THIS WEEK AT THE

Moses Mason House

The fifth annual Fourth of July community picnic will be held on the grounds of the Dr. Moses Mason House, beginning around noon.

Once again the Portland Brass Quintet will present a concert. Contributions are needed to support the appearance of the quintet, which is made possible each year by the generous support of a number of individuals and organizations. To date contributions have been received from the following: Gertrude Hutchins, Florine Bowden, John and Fumiko Head, Mundt-Allen Post-American Legion, Richard and Jane Hosterman, and Walter and Carolyn Hatch. Anyone wishing to make a tax-deductible contribution is urged to send it to Bethel Historical Society, P.O. Box 12, Bethel, ME 04217-0012. In case of inclement weather, the picnic and concert will be held indoors at the historic 1816 Middle Intervale Meeting House on Intervale Road.

Congratulations are in order to Martha Grover for receiving the 1997 Dr. Moses Mason Award at Telstar Regional High School's awards ceremony held earlier this month. Her essay recorded the history of her grandparents' house in Mason township. The award is given annually to the student, who in the judges' opinion, presents the best essay on a historical topic relating to the history of Oxford County. The award consists of a certificate suitable for framing as well as a $100 U.S. Savings bond. Students in Grades 9-12 at Telstar and Gould Academy are eligible to compete. This educational program is but one of several sponsored by the society.

The annual Mason Family Gathering will be held on Sunday, June 29, beginning at 10 a.m. Anyone wishing further information is encouraged to call the society office at 824-2908.

On Tuesday, July 1, the Dr. Moses Mason House Museum will open for its 24th season. Tours will be available Tuesday through Sunday, 1 to 4 p.m., and the research room will also be open during that time as well. A special exhibit on small items in the society's collection which have not been previously exhibited can be seen during the summer. Volunteers are always needed to serve as guides. Anyone willing to volunteer should call the society office. A training session will be held on Monday, June 30, at 2 p.m. for those wishing to learn about the museum or needing a refresher course.

JUNE 18 1997

BETHEL SENIORS

On June 11, 59 members of the Bethel Senior Citizens Club met at Park Place in Rumford.

Helen Saunders, president, conducted the meeting and led the salute to the flag. The secretary's report was read by Arlene Lowell in the absence of the secretary, Barbara Brown. Colleen Boyd gave the treasurer's report and Rudy Royer reported on the Silver Saver jars. Muriel Faudi, Sunshine Committee, reported she had sent sympathy cards and get well cards to several members.

Florence Briggs donated a hot-dish carrier which was won by Betty Blake. The door prize was won by Ruby Judkins.

Jane Hosterman reported on the next meeting, which will be held at Linnell Motel and Conference Center in Rumford on July 16 instead of July 9. The dinner will cost $6 per person. A deputy sheriff will be the speaker.

The trip to Portland Headlight will be July 23, and the bus will leave from the health center at 8 a.m. The group will eat at Captain Newicks. There are still some spaces available on the bus.

On Sept. 9, a railroad trip is scheduled from North Conway, N.H. More on that later.

June birthdays celebrated were: Honey Bailey, Ruth Barker, Florence Briggs, Carolyn Brooks, Doris Brown, Faith Brown, Marjorie Burnham, Bertha Flanders, Doris Fraser, Beatrice Grover, Bud Leavitt, Henry Robertson, Bruce Smith, Pauline Smith, Walter Taft, Erlene Waterhouse, Linda Westleigh, Edeleen Winslow.

After a blessing by Rudy Royer a buffet dinner of potato salad, macaroni salad, finger rolls, lasagna, turkey casserole, ice cream and birthday cake, made by Hometown Bakery, was enjoyed by all.

After dinner Jane Hosterman introduced the speaker, Randy Howell, R.N., from Northeast Health Care Quality Foundation. He gave an interesting talk on Medicare rights for hospitals, skilled nursing facilities and home health agencies and handed several brochures with phone numbers to call if anyone had questions on their Medicare coverage.

MASON GATHERING

Members of the Mason family from several parts of northern New England are expected to come Sunday, June 29, for a day of exploration of family roots and an opportunity to meet distant cousins and other family members at the Dr. Moses Mason House in Bethel.

Registration will begin at 10 a.m. Those attending for the first time are encouraged to bring family lines on a 3 x 5 card. Genealogical assistance will be available for those who want to know more about their family.

Many New England Masons trace their line to Capt. Hugh Mason of Watertown, Mass. His great-grandson, Moses Jr., and wife, Eunice Ayers Mason, were among the earliest settlers in Bethel. The gathering will take place at their son's house. The Bethel Masons came to the town from Dublin, N.H. All Masons regardless of their particular Mason ancestry are welcome.

Those wishing to bring a picnic lunch are invited to gather in the back yard (weather permitting) or if inclement, eat in the meeting room. Anyone desiring to eat out can do so at one of the several nearby restaurants.

Lawn games will be available for both children and adults. Tours of the Dr. Moses Mason House will be available as well as the Bethel Historic District. Information on the local Mason house and grave sites will also be available. In the afternoon, a general information-sharing session will be held.

Everyone attending is encouraged to bring family photographs. Stories about Masons are also welcomed, and if anyone has talent, they should feel free to come prepared to sing, play the piano, put on a demonstration, etc. For further information: Elizabeth Mason Carter, P.O. Box 44, West Bethel, ME 04286, or telephone (207) 836-2343.

BUTTERFLY RELEASE

Forestdale School students of South Woodstock will be participating in a live butterfly release on July 4 at 3 p.m. This is a national event that will be taking place many places across America. It is to symbolize American "freedom" and "independence."

Butterflies play an important part in the pollination of our food source. Without butterflies, our food source could disappear.

The students in grades one through eight have learned this important process over the last few months during Bible Lab classes coordinated and sponsored by Jim and Goldie Mason. The butterflies were ordered in March from a special butterfly zoo in Middletown, R.I., and will arrive just in time for the release. They will be set free at two locations: Moore Park in South Paris and Pine Tree Academy in Freeport.

Each of these events will take place at 3 p.m. A short program will precede the butterfly release: Pledge Allegiance to the Flag and trumpet solo, "God Bless America."

Everyone is invited to join in on this special event.

All the students at Forestdale School planted milkweed seeds earlier this year to get ready for this special event. The milkweed plant is the host plant for monarch butterflies.

JUNE 18 1997 7

ROTARY GOLF CHALLENGE--More than 60 golfers, volunteers and Rotarians enjoyed great weather and superb course conditions Monday for the second Annual Northeast Bank/Bethel Rotary Golf Challenge. This year's event featured a four-ball team scramble and numerous individual prizes including a new car for anyone who made a hole-in-one on the 165-yard 6th hole. Anita Remington of Northeast Bank presented the winning trophy to Rotarian team of Maurice Convey, Allen Connors, Andrew Zaterka, Scott Cussas, who shot a blistering 7 under par 65. In second place, one shot behind, was the team of Kevin Finley, Bob Marchildon, Jerry Perkins and Terry O'Reilly. Finishing third, with a 67, was the team of Don Paddock, Mickey Forbes, Fuzzy Thurston and Rick Kelly. Sponsors included the Bethel Inn & Country Club, Central Distributors, Sudbury Inn, Oxford Hills Dental, Bethel Family Health Center, Rumford Community Hospital, U.S. Cellular, Western Maine Supply, Wild River Realty, Preb's Marketplace Pharmacies, Sunday River Brewing Company, and Viking Motors. Shown are (from left): Linda Varrell of Northeast Bank, Connors, Convey, Zaterka, Cussas, Finley and Remington.

MARILYN HOWE HONORED--The 1997 Bethel Rotary Club Vocational Service Award recipient was Marilyn Howe, the office manager/lead secretary of the Telstar High School Guidance Department. She has worked in the position for 24 years and has provided many students, parents, teachers, and community members assistance and support in the areas of academic, career, personal development, and post secondary planning. Her husband, Wayne, is a middle school teacher at Telstar and they reside in Bryant Pond with their three children. Here, Gary Stuer, chair of Bethel Rotary Club Vocational Service Committee, presents the award to Howe.

COLIN MILES DAVIDSON

Colin Miles Davidson, 46, died at his Madison, N.H., home on June 15, 1997, after a prolonged illness.

Mr. Davidson was born in Littleton, N.H., on Aug. 16, 1950. He was the son of Gerald Davidson and Dorothy Pennock. He graduated from Northwood School, Lake Placid, N.Y., and received a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Wyoming.

Residing at Ward Hill Farm, Madison, N.H., he retired from Advansestar Communications where he was a group publisher of "Hotel Motel Management," a fortnightly publication circulated worldwide. Mr. Davidson's prior publishing appointments included: president, Turnstile Publishing, New York City; assistant group publisher, Crain Communication, New York City; partner, vice president, Sherwin Dodge Newspapers, Littleton, N.H.; associate publisher, New England Business, Boston, Mass.; district sales manager, Yankee Magazine, Dublin, N.H.; director of marketing, Carroll Reed Shops, North Conway, N.H.

Mr. Davidson had a keen interest in the economic development of the Mt. Washington Valley and of New Hampshire. He served as chairman of the DRED Advisory Board for the state of New Hampshire; member of the Board of Directors, Mt. Washington Valley Chamber of Commerce; a founding member, Board of Directors, Art Jubilee, North Conway, N.H.; Arts Venture Fund, N.H. Charitable Trust, Concord, N.H., as a member of the Board of Mt. Washington Valley Chamber of Commerce. He was the driving force behind the Equine Classic, a grand prix horse-jumping event of which he served as chairman for five years.

Mr. Davidson developed an early interest in mountaineering when he served as AMC "Hutboy" in the mid-1960s. He went on from the AMC to be one of the early rock-climbing instructors of the EMS climbing school in North Conway, in 1970. He was invited to join the American Alpine Club's "Andean Relief Expedition" in response to the devastating earthquake in Peru, May 1970. He then spent several climbing seasons in Peru with other expeditions headed by good friend and mentor, H. Admas Carter. In 1973, Mr. Davidson was appointed director of admissions at the White Mountain School, N.H., where he also served as an English teacher and rock-climbing instructor. It was at this time he became one of the founding members of the Mountain Rescue Service, a nonprofit mountain rescue group serving the White Mountains of New Hampshire. He served as their secretary for over 10 years. Mountain Rescue Service is now in its 23rd year. He became a trustee of the White Mountain Observatory in 1973, and served on the executive committee for over 10 years. In 1994, he was made a life trustee. He served as director of admissions at Gould Academy in Bethel from July 1, 1976 to June 30, 1978.

Mr. Davidson's "true love" was farming, which he did at his farm in New Hampshire. A noted breeder of Highland cattle, he served as president and lifelong director of the Northeast Highland Cattle Association. In 1991 and 1992, Ward Hill Farm won Highland Cattle Grand Championships. He served as a member of the National Board of Directors, developed a national advertising campaign, published a marketing manual. In 1993, Mr. Davidson became the editor of "The Bagpipe," the official publication of the American Highland Cattle Association and worked to develop it into a worldwide cattle journal. In 1995, he received the "Highland Man of the Year Award," and subsequently inducted into the "Highland Hall of Fame" in 1996.

Surviving family members include, mother and stepfather, Dorothy and Rennie Pennock of Littleton, N.H.; father and stepmother, Gerald and Catherine Davidson of Beverly Hills, Fla.; a daughter, Heidi Davidson of Manchester, Mass.; four sons, Carter Bethel, Charles and Colin of Lincoln, Mass., and Jacob of New York City; his fiance, Anne O'Driscoll; one brother, Jeffery of Bethlehem, N.H.; two sisters, Debra Robertson of Tucson, Ariz., and Kimberly Richey of Littleton, N.H.; a half brother, Leon Pennock of Littleton; a stepbrother, Stephen Pennock of Littleton; a stepsister, Sylvia Hearst of Windsor, Conn.

Memorial Services will be held at the All Saints Episcopal Church, School Street, Littleton, at 10 a.m. on Saturday, June 21. A gathering will follow at 2 p.m. at his Ward Hill Farm in Madison. In lieu of flowers, donations may be sent to the Mt. Washington Observatory, P.O. Box 2310, North Conway, NH 03860, or the American Highland Cattle Association, Suite 200, Livestock Exchange Bldg., 4701 Marion Street, Denver, CO 80216.

GERTRUDE ANDREWS

Gertrude (Mann) Andrews, 78, died Monday, June 16, 1997, at her residence in Norway.

She was born Nov. 11, 1918, a daughter of the late Edwin J. and Elinor (Doughty) Mann. She was educated through her junior year in the West Paris schools and transferred to Maine Central Institute in Pittsfield where she graduated in the Class of 1938. She spent two years attending Weber College of Boston, Mass., and Babson Park, Fla.

For many years Mrs. Andrews worked as the bookkeeper at her father's clothespin manufacturing firm, Lewis M. Mann & Son. She also served as the corporate treasurer for that firm.

On Oct. 25, 1947, she married H. Stanley Andrews. She later worked in and was co-owner of Cole's Hardware Store, Bryant Pond, with her husband.

Gertrude and Stan made their home in Norway for the last two years, coming from Bryant Pond, where they had lived for more than 40 years. She and her husband enjoyed wintering in Florida and had spent 22 winters there before deciding to remain in Maine year round to enjoy their family.

She was a member of the United Church of Christ in Brandon, Fla., a former Girl Scout leader, and served as the Sunday School superintendent at the Bryant Pond Universalist Church. She also served on the advisory committee of the Rumford Assembly of the Order of Rainbow Girls, was a 50-year member of the Order of the Eastern Star, Jefferson Chapter 89, a past matron of that chapter, and District Deputy Grand Matron.

Besides her husband of 49 years, she is survived by four daughters, Muriel Richards of Sumner, Elinor Andrews of Bryant Pond, Bethany and her husband Michael Shannon of South Paris, and Mary Ellen and her husband Lonnie Hadley of South Woodstock; one sister, Edwina and her husband Earle Palmer Jr. of Oquossoc; 12 grandchildren; 24 great-grandchildren; two great-great-grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by two stepsons, James and Ormond; one brother, Lewis Mann; and two sisters, Geraldine Brown and Maxine Bancroft.

Funeral services will be held at the West Paris Universalist Church, Friday, June 20, at 1 p.m. Interment will be in Wayside Cemetery, Main Street, West Paris. Family and friends are invited to call at the Andrews Funeral Home, Andrews Road, South Woodstock, from 6 to 8 p.m. on Thursday, June 19. The Eastern Star Services will be held at 7 p.m. on Thursday. Those who wish may make donations in Gertrude's memory to: Tri-Town Rescue, P.O. Box 275, West Paris, ME 04289, or American Heart Association, Maine Affiliate, Inc., P.O. Box 346, Augusta, ME 04330-0346.

SINGING GROUP AT BETHEL ALLIANCE CHURCH

The Bethel Alliance Church will host the singing group "Heritage" on Friday, June 20, at 7 p.m. The student touring music ministry of Nyack College in Nyack, N.Y., will present a program of traditional and contemporary Christian music, as well as personal testimonies.

The historic Christian college, founded in 1882, is well known for its evangelical commitment and emphasis on world missions. Many of its graduates have served as missionaries and church leaders, leading organizations such as The Christian and Missionary Alliance, The National Religious Broadcasters and Trans World Radio. Others have served with organizations such as World Relief and World Vision and as educators, counselors, journalists, entrepreneurs, lawyers, and corporate leaders.

The Rev. Richard Mowery of Bethel Alliance Church and Nyack College cordially invite the public to join them for an evening of music that will uplift and challenge those who hear its message. The church is located on Route 26 one mile east of Bethel. For further information regarding the concert, contact the church office at 824-2289.

SONGO CEMETERY

The Songo Cemetery Association will hold its annual meeting on Sunday, June 22, at 7 p.m. at the home of David and Norma Salway in Albany.

Members are urged to attend to assist with decision on the care and upkeep of the cemetery. For further information, call the Salways at 824-2305.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE
Pursuant to 14 M.R.S.A., Section 6323

WHEREAS, on February 26, 1997 a Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale was entered in the Maine District Court, Division of Southern Oxford, in an action by Franklin Savings Bank against Dennis R. swan, Sandra Swan and against an additional party as a Party-in-Interest for the foreclosure of a certain mortgage deed dated September 15, 1976 recorded at Book 912, Page 259, Oxford Registry of Deeds, the ninety-day redemption period having elapsed without redemption, notice is hereby given that there will be sold at public sale held at the offices of Donald K. Cummings, Franklin Savings Bank, 155 Congress Street, Rumford, Maine on July 9, 1997 at 2:00 p.m., all and singular the premises described in said mortgage they being in Locke Mills Village, Town of Greenwood, Oxford County, State of Maine, bounded and described as follows, to wit:-

A certain lot or parcel of land, together with the buildings thereon, situated in the Town of Greenwood, in Locke Mills Village, and bounded as follows: Northwesterly by land now or formerly of Donald Tebbets; southwesterly by the main road leading through Locke Mills Village; southeasterly by land formerly of Walter B. Rand, being the so-called store lot; northeasterly by land formerly of E.L. Tebbets Spool Co.

Also, the water and spring rights as set forth in a deed from Bertha May Davis to Horace E. Fiske, dated August 3, 1932, and recorded in the Oxford County Registry of Deeds on August 6, 1932, in Book 401, Page 430, to which deed reference is hereby made for a more particular description thereof.

Being the same property conveyed to Dennis R. Swan and Sandra Swan by Stanley P. Wilson and Barbara Wilson by their joint tenancy warranty deed dated September 15, 1976.

The sale shall be subject to any condition which a title search would reveal, any unpaid taxes or assessments, and any facts which an accurate survey of the premises might show. The sale shall also be subject to any condition which any examination or inspection including any engineering or environmental testing of the premises might reveal, condition of the premises to be "AS IS" with no warranties regarding the condition permitted use or value of the premises.

Franklin Savings Bank will sell the above-described premises to the highest bidder subject to the foregoing conditions and limitations at said public sale and shall deliver a quitclaim deed to the purchaser free and clear of all interest of said Defendants.

Further terms of sale are as follows:-

1) As a qualification to bid each prospective bidder shall be required to submit a bank or certified check payable to Franklin Savings Bank in the amount of $2,500.00, which will be returned if the bidder is unsuccessful, and which amount will be retained as a deposit upon the purchase price from the successful bidder; the balance due on the purchase price shall be cash or by certified or cashier's check within forty-five (45) days after the time of sale on July 9, 1997 and if the purchaser fails to make payment of said balance due in said manner within forty-five (45 days after July 9, 1997 Franklin Savings Bank reserves the right to sell the premises to the next highest bidder and the highest bidder shall forfeit the $2,500.00 deposit. The purchaser shall be required to sign a Memorandum of Purchase at the time of sale and will pay all transfer taxes.

2) Franklin Savings Bank, foreclosing mortgagee, may bid any or all of the amount due to it under the Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale dated February 26, 1997 in lieu of any cash payment.

Further inquiries may be directed to Donald K. Cummings, Franklin Savings Bank, 1-207-364-7866 or to Paul H. Mills, Esq., 207-778-3521.

Dated this 30th day of May, 1997.

Obituaries

DOROTHEA J. HITZROT

Dorothea Johnson Hitzrot, 98, died in Brunswick on Wednesday, June 4, 1997, following a short illness.

Mrs. Hitzrot was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1899 and was educated there. She later moved to New York City to attend art school and work as a fashion illustrator in the 1920s.

She met and married Lewis Hitzrot in 1927. They moved to Philadelphia, Pa., and then to Mercersburg, Pa. Retirement was in Princeton, N.J., and then Bethel to be near their daughter, Lynda Chandler. Recently she had resided at The Highlands in Topsham.

Mrs. Hitzrot's interests have always been her family, her friends, travel, art, history, and all sorts of crafts.

Survivors include her daughter, Lynda Chandler of Bethel and Brunswick; her son, James M. Hitzrot II of Baltimore, Md.; seven grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held later at the West Parish Congregational Church, Bethel.

Richmond Lyle Durrell, 71, of Peru, died Monday evening, June 9, 1997, at St. Mary's Hospital, Lewiston, where he had been a patient for the past two weeks following a long illness.

He was born in Eustis on Aug. 2, 1925, the son of Richmond Allen and Rosemond (Cox) Durrell. He received his education in Stratton schools and at an early age started driving a team of horses for the Stowell McGregor Co. in Stratton.

On April 26, 1947, he married Hazel Hardy in Dixfield. They resided in Dixfield for many years and 11 years ago moved to Peru. Prior to his sickness, he was a self-employed lumberman. He was a World War II veteran, having served in the European Theatre. He was a member of the Maine Draft Horse and Ox Association and was a former member of the Peru American Legion. He enjoyed working with wood and made stands and other wood novelties.

He is survived by his wife of 50 years of Peru; five daughters, Linda Fish of Dixfield, Brenda Calden and Wendy Henderson both of Peru, Cindy Haines of Bethel, JoAnn of Old Orchard; one sister, Arvilla Pease of Stratton; 11 grandchildren; and nine great-grandchildren. He was predeceased by one sister, Mabel Smith, and two brothers, Daryle and Ronald Allen (Pete).

Funeral services were held Thursday morning, June 12. Burial was at the Greenwood Cemetery, Dixfield.

PHYLLIS H. SEVERANCE

Phyllis H. Severance, 83, formerly of Route 5, Center Lovell, died Monday, June 9, 1997, at the Norway Rehabilitation and Living Center, where she had resided for the past 7 1/2 years.

Born at Saco, Aug. 15, 1913, the daughter of William E. and Nellie Clark Howard, she attended Saco schools and graduated from Thornton Academy.

In 1935 Mrs. Severance graduated as a registered nurse from the Peter Bent Brigham School of Nursing at Boston, Mass.

She worked as a private duty nurse in the Lovell area and married William E. Severance Sr. in 1938, after which she assisted him in a growing real estate, insurance and construction business. He died in 1988, a few months short of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Severance enjoyed reading, and while at the living center she developed a special fondness for the facility's cat, Callie.

Survivors include one son, William E. Jr. of East Stoneham; one sister, Adeline H. Towle and a niece, Carol Ann Lee, both of Saco.

Graveside services at Pine Grove Cemetery in Fryeburg will be at the convenience of the family, with the Rev. Robert Chickering officiating. Donations in her memory may be made to the Stoneham Rescue Service, P.O. Box 42, East Stoneham, ME 04231.

LUCY A. COX

Lucy A. (Ricker) Cox, 78, formerly of Old County Road, Bryant Pond, died Monday evening, June 9, 1997, at Ledgeview Nursing Home.

Mrs. Cox was born in Bryant Pond on July 27, 1918, daughter of the late George and Annie (Hardy) Ricker, attended school there and was a lifelong resident of that community until illness required her admittance to Ledgeview.

A homemaker, she also cared for the elderly in their homes and was associated with Victorian Villa in Canton for a period of time.

On March 3, 1956, she married Berton Cox, who predeceased her July 8, 1975.

Mrs. Cox is survived by two daughters, Etrulia Taylor of Colebrook, N.H., and Brenda Cox Knapp of Bryant Pond; two sons, Sanford Ricker and Waywood Taylor, both of Bryant Pond; a sister, Edna Ricker of Colebrook; two brothers, Jim Ricker of Colebrook and Henry Ricker of Merrimack, N.H.; 13 grandchildren; and 10 great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by two sons, Asa Manley and William E. Taylor Jr., who both died in 1969.

Graveside services were held at Lakeside Cemetery, Bryant Pond, on June 12. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Tri-Town Rescue, P.O. Box 275, West Paris, ME 04289.

LETTIE D. BROOKS

Lettie (Day) Brooks, 86, of Main Street, West Paris, wife of Carl R. Brooks, died Wednesday morning, June 11, 1997, at Maine Medical Center, Portland.

Mrs. Brooks was born in Woodstock on Oct. 4, 1910, daughter of the late Alton L. and Ella (Swan) Day, attended West Paris schools, and graduated from West Paris High School with the class of 1928. She later attended Gorham Normal School, graduating in 1932.

For over 30 years, she taught school, most of those years at the South Woodstock School, and retired in 1972. On Oct. 19, 1945, she married Carl R. Brooks, and had been a resident of West Paris for nearly 60 years. She was a member of the First Universalist Church of West Paris, and the Eleanor B. Forbes Goodwill Society.

She also held membership in Franklin Grange of Bryant Pond for nearly three quarters of a century, and belonged to the Oxford County Retired Teachers, the National Retired Teachers Association, Mt. Pleasant Rebekah Lodge No. 30 of South Paris, and the Woodstock Senior Citizens.

Besides her husband, she is survived by several nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by two sisters, Lillian Doughty and Lula Newell.

Funeral services were held at the First Universalist Church, West Paris, on Saturday, June 14. Interment was in Gracelawn Memorial Park, Auburn. Friends who wish may make memorial donations in her memory to either: First Universalist Church, West Paris or Tri-Town Rescue, P.O. Box 275, West Paris, ME 04289.

TEBBETS SERVICE

A graveside service will be held for Jeannette Tebbets at Oak Hill Cemetery, Auburn, on June 29 at 3 p.m. Mrs. Tebbets, formerly of Bethel, died on March 16, 1997.

Card of Thanks

We would like to Thank everyone for all the cards, kind words & prayers in our time of loss. And a special Thanks to everyone at Ledgeview for the care of our Mother.

From the Family of Lucy Cox

Card of Thanks

I would like to take this opportunity to Thank the voters of Bethel for allowing me to serve as selectman for the past 3 years. I would also like to thank those who supported my bid for a second term and to congratulate Reggie Brown on his victory. I am confident Reggie will do a fine job representing Bethel voters. It has been a pleasure working with my former associates on the Board of Selectmen. The town is well represented by this dedicated and competent group. I would also like to thank my family and co-workers who put up with my frequent absences for meetings at all hours of the day.

Sincerely
Rick Whitney

To submit events for the Community Calendar, you may bring in your copy to The Bethel Citizen or call the office at 824-2444, by noon on Mondays.

The family of Arthur A. Theriault would like to thank our families, friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness shown to us during our recent loss. If you gave a gift of food, sent flowers, made a phone call, visited, sent a card, stopped to think of us or say a prayer... we sincerely thank you.
